

Information Technology

As optimization, regulations and compliance issues regarding your institution's Information Technology systems become more complex, uncovering and addressing technology issues before a problem occurs can be vital to maintaining compliance. At Kennedy and Coe, we can help ensure no aspect of your system's compliance has been overlooked, identifying issues requiring your attention and suggesting solutions so you can take positive action.

Once we've identified your needs and offered solutions, we'll help implement these solutions to avoid problems and improve your practices.

IT Systems Assessment

Our comprehensive assessment focuses on multiple areas of your system's functionality, ranging from internal policies to network security. For a complete listing of these services, view our Assessments Checklist.

Internet Banking Assessment

Our review focuses on firewall structure, service providers and interfaces with other bank systems to provide an overall view of your Internet Banking system. For a complete listing of these services, view our Assessments Checklist.

Network Vulnerability Assessments

Performed independently or as part of the Information Technology or Internet Banking Assessment, network vulnerability testing helps identify any weaknesses between your external network and the Internet, and provides suggestions for improvement. By simulating various electronic attack methods, skilled professionals will test all Internet-connected infrastructure. Similar internal network testing can also help identify and analyze the risks to internal devices, and suggest specific hardening techniques to resolve any concerns.

Other Technology Services & Consulting

In addition, you may find value in these programs:

- Security Services – To protect your network and information assets, we can provide extensive Intrusion Detection and Prevention services.
- Risk Management Analyses – Working with bank management, we can help analyze your system's risks and determine appropriate safeguards.
- Network Configuration Review – Evaluation of your existing network infrastructure can ensure that your network is correctly structured.
