

Biofuels Software Consulting

Kennedy and Coe is not in the software selling business. Therefore you can expect a more objective evaluation of various packages that will suit your needs. Our agricultural, accounting and biofuels experience gives us an edge in crafting the best solution for your software needs.

Accounting for profit

The complexity of today's operations requires careful set-up, training, installation and reporting of fuel, commodities, RINs, etc. A trusted adviser on your side helps foresee problems beforehand, and manage ongoing concerns, including:

- Needs analysis and accounting systems selection
- Inventory control and procedures
- Intercompany consolidation accounting
- Hedging systems and accounting processes
- Accounting systems integration with fuel terminal software and grain management software
- Accounting policy and procedures
- Project management of system installs and training
- Accounting staff training and process flow modeling
- Financial institution contacts for leasing and equipment financing
